REFERENCE: Kevin (Harv) Malone

Harv has worked on various construction projects, mostly residential log and timber homes, for my company over a span of nine years. His knowledge of log home construction and construction in general has increased to the point where he is considered an expert in the field of log and timber construction. To supplement his knowledge Harv is conscientious about the quality and the completion of his work.

Also, extremely important to any construction project is Harv's inventory of tools. He compliments his stock of tools with the many specialty tools needed to properly build log homes and he continually adds new or improved tools to his inventory.

Finally, the biggest advantage to a log or timber home buyer is the fact that Harv specializes in that type of construction; which makes the progress of building easier and more enjoyable.
