Dear Harv:

I just wanted to drop you a note and express to you my sincere appreciation for a quality and professional job on my new cabin last year. In this day and age of a busy pace and lack of dependability by contractors and subcontractors alike in the construction business, it was very refreshing to encounter an individual as dependable and reliable as you.

Last year as I observed you during the construction process, I was certainly impressed with your attention to detail and your incredible understanding and knowledge of log home construction.

I likewise was able to rely on you to arrange for the subcontractors and coordinate well with them in completing my cabin on schedule. I am aware that the building season was short and that without your 100% commitment and follow through, the chances of a timely completion would have been impossible.

If you would like to use me as a reference, I would be more than happy to express my confidence and high opinion of Mountain Woodworks to an inquiring party.

Based on my experience in the construction business, I am sure with the service and commitment that you provide, your business will continue to be successful, and grow and expand in the future.

I hope this year is a good one for you and wish you much success in your future building endeavors.

Sincerely,

G. Walter Gasser
President
